

Peachie Keen

Peachie Keen lingerie is all about having fun, looking flirtatious and feeling fabulous.

It all began in Bristol in 2003 by best friends Louise Coughlan and Nicola Thomas. Louise had a fashion degree from UWE and was designing and making costume for film when the pair met. Nicola's dressmaking credentials were less orthodox, having studied politics. "My Mum was always making things and she taught me to sew and knit when I was quite young. While my friends were playing with Barbie and Ken, I was busying making them matching outfits".

A shared passion for pretty pants and a love of all things handmade led to a collaboration to produce the perfect pair. Inspired by 50's glamour, they've created a contemporary look that combines suggestive silhouettes, a vibrant colour palette and delicious prints. Louise says " We spent a lot of time getting the design right. The knickers are cute & comfortable and the bras have a sexy v-shaped neckline that creates a great cleavage". Everything from Peachie Keen is 100% quality, even down to the handcrafted label.

Peachie Keen lingerie is like the women who wear them, sexy, stylish, a little bit naughty and look sweet enough to eat.
